

DECISION

Question

Are we stuck
because we want too much
certainty?

Are we waiting for every variable to be clear before acting? What could we try that is small, low-risk, and still moves us forward without full certainty?