

UNION

Question

When do we feel most like a team?

Think of moments when we have hit milestones or overcame challenges, times when the hard work really paid off. Have these experiences brought us closer?