

UNION

Question

What can help us feel safer being honest with each other?

Do we have a culture where open communication and feedback are welcomed? What would make it easier to share honestly without fear?