

NAVIGATION

Question

How do we transition from being reactive to being strategic?

How do we move from putting out fires to acting with purpose and staying true to our core mission? What structures, habits, or mindsets do we need to act with intention?