

FRICTION

Question

What regulation or policy feels like a dead-end?

Some rules can block our progress. Should we continue to push back and advocate for change, or is it sometimes better to find alternative paths forward?